

Lower your processing fees

Providing a cash option for your customers can lower your processing fees.

When customers have access to cash through your ATM, they may choose to pay with cash instead of credit or debit cards. Cash transactions can help you save money on credit card processing fees, which are typically associated with card payments. By encouraging cash usage, you can effectively reduce transaction costs and increase your profit margins.